

Labhrás Quigley

Labhrás Quigley is a graduate of the 'Growing with Grace' death doula program under Alua Arthur and is currently working on 'Abe House' a project to open a Spiritual Care Centre, that has a focus on death and dying. He has a keen interest in MAiD and progressive green forms of burial, as well as returning death care to the forefront of community consciousness.

Prior to death work, Labhrás worked in industry relations in the non-profit sector in British Columbia and has a background in both the technology and finance sectors. He has been calling Vancouver home since 2009 and originally hails from Wexford, Ireland.