

Liz Finney

Liz has a passion for living every day with the awareness that life is short and a desire to live it consciously. As a certified death doula, she is excited to return to our national conference to guide others in considering and preparing for death as a natural part of life. She has over 25 years' experience within government, public sector, not for profit and international organizations. Liz serves on a number of Boards, including as Past Chair and Will Power Lead for CAGP Nova Scotia Chapter, and is currently Director of Fund Development for Bonny Lea Farm, an all-inclusive service provider for people with intellectual disabilities.
